

From 20 to 23 November 2018 the DOAG 2018 Conference + Exhibition will take place in Nürnberg in the south of Germany. This is an international conference of the largest Oracle community in Germany with dozens of lectures, hands-on training days and the opportunity to get in touch with many potential employers. About half of the lectures will be held in English.

The content of the lectures is broad and goes well beyond the topic of databases. It also covers topics like Data Analytics, Infrastructure, Cloud Computing, Middleware and Innovation. The DOAG program you can find here: <https://2018.doag.org/en/program/>.

The price of a regular visit of this conference is about 2000 €. As a student, you have the opportunity to attend this major conference almost free. An opportunity that is not offered to you so quickly again.

Costs / expenditure

As a student you pay nothing for attending the conference. The participation in the large evening event, as well as the full supply of drinks and food is included. In return, you have to work under the NextGen program maximal 12 working hours at the conference and participate in the introductory event on 19.11. Travelling by train, as well as the central accommodation near the station of Nürnberg, the TH Cologne will pay for you. You participate in the costs only with just 50 €, which are payable in advance.
